Koepka seizes command

Tiger struggles with double-bogey and finding sand off the tee

AGENCIES
Bethpage

Defending champion Brooks Koepka, chasing his fourth victory in eight major starts, opened with a record-equalling low score to grab the lead at the 101st PGA Championship while inconsistent Tiger Woods struggled at Bethpage Black.

Koepka on Thursday fired a seven-under-par 63, the day's only bogey-free round, to take a one-stroke lead over New Zealand's Danny Lee after 18 holes while Woods, in his first start since snapping an 11-year major drought at last month's Masters, settled for a 72 and a share of 51st.

Third-ranked Koepka closed with a 33-foot birdie putt to set a course record and match the lowest round in tournament history.

"That was one of the best rounds I've played probably as a professional," said Koepka, who turned pro in 2012.

It was the second 63 in as many years at a PGA Championship for the 29-year-old American, who joined Australian Greg Norman and Fiji's Vijay Singh as the only players to shoot so low twice in majors. Lee closed with back-to-back birdies to shoot 64, added distance with his driver the key to his low round of 2019 and in 10 career major starts.

Tommy Fleetwood, trying to become the first Englishman to win the PGA since Jim Barnes in 1919, shot 67 to stand a distant third, one stroke ahead of France's Mike Lorenzo-Vera, South Korean Kang Sung and Americans Chez Reavie, Luke List and Pat Perez.

A pack of eight on 69 included major winners Phil Mickelson, Jason Day, Jordan Spieth and top-ranked Dustin Johnson. Spieth would complete a career Grand Slam with a win while Johnson's top ranking is vulnerable if he doesn't claim the Wanamaker Trophy.

Both Koepka and playing partner Woods said his round could have been better, perhaps below the record 62 fired by South Africa's Branden Grace in the 2017 British Open.

He charged with four birdies in six holes before sinking a 10-footer to save par at the sixth ahead of his closing heroics. "He played well," Woods said. Only two of eight prior players who fired major-opening 63s won titles, Jack Nicklaus at the 1980 US Open and Ray Floyd at the 1982 PGA.

Koepka, who seeks a third consecutive US Open win next month, could become the first player to hold back-to-back titles at two majors, but no player has ever repeated as a US Open and PGA champion.

Sixth-ranked Woods, coming off his stunning 15th major victory in last month's Masters, endured a nightmare day in his first competitive round since capturing his 15th career major title 33 days ago at Augusta National.

On the same course where he won the 2002 US Open, Woods opened with a double bogey at 10 after finding rough, laying up and blasting over the green.

The golf course is playing tough. It's not that hard to make bogeys out there but it's hard to make birdies
Tiger Woods

My putter was hot today. It hasn't felt that good in a long time. This was a crazy day, seven-under, it's not going to happen every day

Federer, Osaka pull out

AGENCIES
Rome

Roger Federer, ranked three in the world pulled out, while Naomi Osaka called it quits before her quarter final of the Italian Open, here on Friday.

Federer, a four-time Rome finalist, had been due to meet Greek eighth seed Stefanos Tsitsipas for a place in the semi-finals.

The Swiss 20-time Grand Slam winner was playing in Rome to prepare for his return to the French Open for the first time since 2015.

"I am disappointed that I will not be able to compete today," said Federer.

"I am not 100 percent physically and after consultation with my team, it was determined that I not play. Rome has always been one of my favourite cities to visit and I hope to be back next year."

The 37-year-old saved two match points to win through 2-6, 6-4, 7-6 (9/7) against Borna Coric to advance to the quarter-finals after earlier easing to a straight sets win over Portugal's Joao Sousa.

World number one Osaka said she was between sad and disappointed. "I woke up this morning and I couldn't really move my thumb," the 21-year-old told a press conference.

"I can't move my hand. I can't move my thumb and I'm not sure I can play my match.

Osaka said she could stay in Rome before going on to the French Open, but did not rule out competing in Roland Garros.

"I'm going to stay here for one more day and see how it is," she said. "I haven't really talked to everyone so don't really know the plan is yet. I've never had this problem before, it's brand new."

She eased into the last eight in Rome with a 6-3-6-3 win over Mihaela Buzarnescu, after earlier beating Slovak Dominika Cibulkova by the same scoreline, as players doubled up after the previous day was washed out.

But Osaka's top spot was guaranteed when reigning Roland Garros champion Halep fell to Czech Marketa Vondrousova 2-6 7-5 6-3 in the second round.

Man City target landmark treble

AGENCIES / London

Manchester City are on the brink of a domestic treble, with only Watford standing in their way in Saturday's FA Cup final, but a potentially historic season risks being overshadowed by several probes into the club's off-field conduct. However, the club have spent much of the week preceding the Wembley showcase responding to reports that they could be set for a season's ban from the Champions League over alleged breaches of financial fair play rules. The case was referred to UEFA's adjudicatory chamber on Thursday to decide what sanction, if any, should be imposed. City replied, saying they were "disappointed, but regrettably not surprised" by the move from European football's governing body.

Reports by German publication Der Spiegel had alleged that City, bankrolled by Sheikh Mansour, a member of Abu Dhabi's royal family, set up sponsorship deals to circumvent regulations limiting how much money owners can put into a club.
